Use a video on Instagram to reach a huge audience If your customers are looking forward to Instagram (which they almost certainly do), video is the best way to catch their attention. Pictures can do their job, but they already make up most of the feed and lose it. That's why you need to stop the scroll and add some eye-catching movement to the mix. Let's look at the facts. Every day, 500 million people log on to Instagram and spend serious time there. Obviously, the video on Instagram makes a huge splash. This is now the perfect time to get on board with Instagram video marketing. Whether it's video ads in feeds or video ads, both large and small businesses have been very successful with Instagram's different ways of advertising. Use it as a base If you're going to upload videos to Instagram, you should create your tag as a presence in the app itself. This means having an active page with regular posts that generate traffic and conversation. Depending on the type of business, you can now have an online store on the Instagram app itself, making it easier to link from your Instagram videos. You can also use Instagram Stories to your advantage. Since the main property is at the top of your feed, you can regularly post updates to let people know about events, sales, or anything else that is up to date with your brand. Make your Videos on Instagram soar above the competition With so many ways to create videos for Instagram, there are some versatile tips and tricks that you can follow to your audience by double tapping your posts in no time. Color is key We mentioned that the video stands out mostly in the image-based Instagram feed. The effect is amplified if you add a splash of color. It doesn't have to be to throw up the entire palette on the screen, just to draw an eye. This also applies to your text. Since Instagram videos start to sound off by default, it's important to ensure that your introductory text appears with vibrability and color. This way, people are involved from the get-go and they get the essence of your video in the first few seconds. Keep it short and digestible One of the best for tips is to make it quick and punchy. Instagram is about catchy content, so you should try to engage your viewer in this short window before you swipe. Don't turn them on with a minute-long video that takes a while to warm up - a good rule of thumb is to keep it between and 30 seconds, peaks. How do you make a compelling video video Simple. Choose everything that is not absolutely necessary. For example, don't work precious time showing viewers the address of your business. If their video is captured by your key points, they click through and find it on your website. You don't have to be a big brand of shelling out big bucks to make an Instagram video with an impact. Use stock shots and animations to achieve the same quality per persuasion cost. But who's going to do it? With Biteable being an Instagram video maker, you can do it yourself from the comfort of your desk, couch or bathroom. With a huge library of stock shots and in-house animations, all you need is an internet connection to get you started. You can adjust color, add your own pictures and audio track, and edit scenes the way you want. And best of all, you'll upload your video to Instagram in minutes.
